

BreakingGround

2010 Editorial Calendar

Jan/Feb Closing December 15, 2009 Finance

Some of the region's biggest employers and most active builders are in financial services. A look at how the recession is effecting branch openings, regional centers and an outlook on when things will become 'normal' again. Year end results for contracting.

March/April Closing February 19, 2010 Oakland

Pittsburgh's busiest neighborhood keeps getting more crowded, and needs more available space. What projects are in the pipeline? What will the future of the UPMC Presbyterian/Children's Hospital campus look like?

May/June Closing April 23, 2010 Housing Update

The hardest hit sector of the construction and real estate market is coming off the mat. Is Pittsburgh seeing new housing? What areas are getting hot? What is happening with the elderly and aging in place housing construction?

July/August Closing June 18, 2010 The Fringe Markets

How did smaller markets like Erie, State College and Morgantown fare during the recession? A look at some projects and companies to watch. Mid-year results and updated forecasts for the regional and national markets.

Sept/Oct Closing August 20, 2010 Education Update

As ARRA winds down, where were the dollars spent on education? What trends in design and programming will impact K-12 schools? Has the recovery begun for Pitt and CMU capital plans?

Nov/Dec Closing October 22, 2010 The Big Picture

Is the economy growing again or recovering from the second leg of a double-dip recession? What has the great recession of 2008 done to the make-up of Western PA's design, construction and real estate communities. Regional and national forecasts for 2011. The region's leaders talk about the next 'big things' to affect Western PA's economy.

Regular Features

Every edition profiles significant projects and firms, MBE/WBE businesses in the spotlight, regional and national market updates, contract awards and people in the news, plus news from the "street" of Western PA.

Artwork deadlines are seven days following closing.